

Celebrate Divine Chocolate
by Tilly from Bradfield Primary School

*Taste-bud tingling,
Rich and creamy,
A firework sensation,
Disco on my tongue,
That wonderful first bite of Divine Chocolate.*

*Pa Pa Paa,
Best of the best!*

*Cocoa pods growing on trees
Not a clue about the journey ahead,
The white fibres inside are melting,
Whilst resting on a leaf bed.*

*The chocolate comes from far away,
In a place called Ghanan,
Fairtrade is always there,
Making life better for the farmers!*

*I love chocolate more than anything,
Especially Divine,
And when it's taken out of the wrapper,*

All of it has to be MINE, MINE, MINE!

*So when I settle down to sleep,
Let me dream of chocolate,
And also the farmers,
Getting their share of the profits.*
